

December 22nd, 2016

10 Outside-the-Box Experiential Travel Gift Ideas

Give the well-traveled people in your life something they'll remember for years to come.

These presents are sure to satisfy all the adventurers, foodies and nature-loving globe-trotters on your list.

By Sheryl Nance-Nash

Not all gifts should be wrapped and placed under the tree. If an aspiring globe-trotter on your list is yearning for a long-lasting memory on an epic trip, give a gift that keeps on giving: an experiential vacation. From a foodie pilgrimage in Paris to a once-in-a-lifetime hike through Machu Picchu to a bucket-list skiing adventure, these trips cater to travelers of all kinds. Read on for a few underrated and surprising gift ideas well-suited for every jet-setter in your life.

Take Them Out to the Ballgame

To win over the serious Boston Red Sox fan on your list, splurge for an overnight stay at the Fenway Park Suite at Hotel Commonwealth in Boston that's conveniently just a stone's throw from Fenway Park. The suite showcases original ballpark seats on its walk-out terrace, a mural of the Green Monster scorecard and a plethora of memorabilia, including a coffee table signed by many Red Sox legends. There's also the opportunity to have the World Series trophy delivered to the suite to snap memorable vacation photos. How's that for bragging rights? Pair all this with tickets to the game, and you'll have the perfect gift for the sports and travel aficionado on your list.