For Election Season, Hotel Packages

By SHIVANI VORA

Whether you're a Democrat, a Republican or an independent, or just looking to get away from anything related to the presidential election, hotels around the country have you covered with special packages. Some offers are valid only for election night, Nov. 8, while others are also available for a few days before and after the event or up until Inauguration Day, Jan. 20.

"The election is on everyone's minds, and hotels are using the event as a clever marketing tool to bring in business," said Ignacio Maza, the executive vice president of the Signature Travel Network.

Below is a selection of packages with an election theme.

For those looking to get away from election coverage, the Hotel Commonwealth in Boston has the Election Escape package. All news channels on the in-room television will be blocked, and the election coverage sections from newspapers will be removed before they're delivered. Available from Nov. 3 through 13. Prices from $359 a night.
